

Winners Don't Quit Comedy Routine

WHAT FELLOW COMEDIANS SAY ABOUT AL FOXX...

"Al Foxx is one unique and funny comedian. He puts the audience at ease with his disability while using it to provide a fresh and hilarious insight into how he copes with it and his world. I would gladly work with Al again and suggest you book this highly clever and hilarious comedian."

Geoff Young, U.S. Comedy Arts Festival 2000, Showtime, Good Morning America, Fox Sports

"Al Foxx, you are marvelously funny and incredibly endowed with lots of talent."

Carolyn Rhea, Sabrina the Teenage Witch, Hollywood Squares

"I always howl at the Foxx."

Michael Winslow, The Police Academy movies, great national headliner.

"You're funny...Nice working with you. Let's do it again, soon."

Tommy Chong from Cheech & Chong

"Al is a funny comic and a nice guy, but a mediocre driver. It is always a pleasure to share the stage with Al."

Jake Johannsen, appearances on Tonight Show, Letterman, HBO

"Thanks for making me laugh and for warming up the audience".

Wendy Liebman, National Female Comedian of the Year

"Al is one of the brightest of the new crop of comics. He's far from lame."

Carl Warmenhoven Assistant Manager, Comedy Underground

"I enjoyed the hell out of your show. Keep up the good work."

Lewis Black, Comedy Central, The Daily Show

"Your not an easy guy to forget. You hide your light deep under the bushel then go on stage and kill."

Will Durst, America's premier political comedian opening for presidential candidates, and governors

BIO OF AL FOXX

President of Winners Don't Quit Association, Al Foxx travels the country inspiring people with his message of hope and humor. Survivor of a paralyzing motorcycle crash that left him unable to drive, walk, speak, or work, Al weaves his rehab journey into an inspiring, absolutely hilarious comedy routine. Al now drives to his engagements, limps on stage, makes audiences laugh, and gets paid at the end of the gig. Winner of the 2000 Giggles Comedy Club Laff-Off in Seattle, he is a popular Feature Comic in the Comedy Clubs of the Puget Sound, Washington area.
